ABOUT SHANELL

Shanell Pharr-Williams helps companies protect revenue and reduce reputational risk using the EMPACT™ Framework — strengthening employee retention, customer trust, and long-term profitability.

She's a TEDx speaker, international award winner and speaker, and the CEO of Pharr-Williams, LLC, recognized as the expert on Empathy in Customer Service and Workplace Leadership.

With over 30 years of experience spanning military leadership, utility industry senior leadership roles, and transformational consulting, Shanell helps organizations turn empathy from a "soft skill" into a measurable competitive advantage.

A former U.S. Army Sergeant turned Leadership Strategist, Shanell brings unmatched discipline, strategy, and heart to every space she leads. Her powerful journey from the military to the marketplace has equipped her to transform the lives and careers of countless leaders, helping them shift from striving in silence to rising in authentic connection and purpose.

After retiring from the utility industry, where she served in senior leadership roles for 30+ years, Shanell founded Pharr-Williams, LLC to address a critical gap in modern business: the ability to combine AI efficiency with genuine human empathy. As the creator of proprietary frameworks including the EMPACT™ Framework and the C.A.R.E. Method™, Shanell serves clients from entrepreneurs to enterprise organizations, demonstrating how human-centered leadership drives innovation, retention, revenue, and customer loyalty.

As a sought-after international speaker and recipient of the 2025 Legendary Women of Impact Award (Paris, France), Shanell delivers strategy-driven messages to audiences worldwide, redefining what it means to lead with both excellence and empathy.
